PROJECT: ATLANTIS HOTEL

Hotel Design & Concept Development by Alina Tsolakakis

Atlantis Hotel's architectural style differs from any other hotel in Santorini. Its long history adds to its glamorous character. Hollywood film Summer Lovers was filmed in Altantis Hotel, establishing the hotel as an iconic property in Fira.

THE CONCEPT

This historic hotel is the oldest on Santorini island. It was established in 1956 and has hosted many celebrities over the years. Alina Tsolakakis was inspired by this inheritance and focused on modernizing this historic place. She renovated the hotel by enriching it with new elements and redesigned both the exterior and the interior of the rooms.

THE IMPLEMENTATION

Alina Tsolakakis and her expert team renovated the outdoor swimming pool. They enlarged it in order to cover the needs of the wide variety of guests visiting the hotel.

Two of the rooms were placed in the swimming pool area.

The building's characteristic arches emerge from the pool.

To ensure the place would be functional and elegant, tailor-made furniture was designed especially for the rooms. Minimal design and high quality upholstery, with a variety of vivid or pastel colors, add a stylish touch to each of the furniture pieces.

The common areas also feature a minimal design. A large marble staircase dominates the interior, complemented by an elegant combination of pastel colors.
